

JPAG symposium programme

Thursday 15th June 2023

Stability VII

Royal Society of Chemistry, London

Continuing our successful series of stability meetings, this 7th event is essential for anyone concerned with the management and assessment of drug stability - especially for respiratory products and unlicensed medicines. We have a group of expert speakers from academia, industry and with a regulatory perspective who will provide background information and new approaches to stability testing.

Hear about particular stability challenges in testing and shelf-life setting for these types of products and learn from our expert speakers on frameworks and practical challenges.

Posters are invited from industry and academia on stability topics to facilitate additional interaction between attendees and speakers.
