Regulatory Hot Topics IX

Royal Society of Chemistry, London

This symposium will address an introduction to the issues and challenges associated with mitigating counterfeit and falsified medicines. Additional topics will cover BP and ICH updates including new and emerging guidance from 2024 and a look forward into 2025 including ePILs and devices. The programme will also look at the changing landscape for nitrosamines and titanium dioxide.

The meeting provides an excellent opportunity for dialogue, discussion and debate in an open forum and allows learning from expert speakers involved in the development of guidance and best practice.

The meeting is open to the submission of abstracts for posters in line with the above proposed key themes.
